13 June 2017

Dear Parent/Carer

We have arranged to attend a Science Day at Sevenoaks School on Tuesday 27 June 2017. During the day a range leading scientists and medics from the top universities around the countries will be speaking about their cutting edge scientific research. This day is designed to give students ideas on the different career paths in science and gives them the unique opportunity to hear from, and ask questions of, some of the countries most high profile scientists.

The itinerary for the day is as follows:

1. Professor Gillian Griffiths from University of Cambridge speaking on the body's defences to disease
2. Dr Francisco Diego from University College London speaking on astrophysics and the Cosmos
3. Dr Anna Remington from the Centre for Research in Autism and Education at UCL speaking on their autism research
4. Mr Foiz Ahmed who is the CEO at OxSyBio (a medical company) speaking on 3D printing of human tissue
5. Dr Jiayun Pang and Dr Birthe Nielsen from University of Greenwich speaking on their research into pharmaceutical, chemical and environmental science

This day is completely free of charge and a full lunch and break refreshments are provided. We will be travelling to and from Sevenoaks school by minibus, students will need to meet at school at 8:40am in the Apollo downstairs plaza, we expect to return to school by 4.40pm, traffic permitting. Students are required to wear their usual 'business dress' for the day.

We have 12 places available and these will be allocated on a first come, first served bases. To secure their place, students need to hand the attached consent form to myself in A02.

Yours faithfully

Emily Howe
Teacher of A level Biology and Applied Science
